Headline:
Dry with some brightness and sunny spells today.

Today:
Another warm day with light winds and partly cloudy conditions for most. Sunniest spells will be toward East Anglian coasts. A chance of isolated showers to the west. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
A dry and bright evening to follow but with cloud building from the west later as rain arrives here overnight. Rain may become heavy and persistent toward dawn. Minimum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Tuesday:
Wet in the west with persistent and sometimes heavy rain. Perhaps drier in parts to the east, through there remains a risk of outbreaks of light rain. Becoming drier overnight. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Damp on Wednesday, but rain should eventually clear. Mostly dry with bright spells and isolated showers Thursday. Rain arriving from the west overnight into Friday, becoming breezier.
